WHAT ARE FOOD DISTRIBUTIONS?

Several times a week, the City of Santa Barbara and the FoodBank of Santa Barbara County provide food to hundreds of people in need at various distributions sites throughout the City. We are looking for new volunteers to help us set up and pass out food at one or more of our locations.

Have you ever considered becoming a volunteer in your community?

The City of Santa Barbara and the FoodBank are in need of loving hands and hearts to give a few hours of their time each week at one or more of our food distributions.

Give the gift of food. Give the gift of time. Become a volunteer.
